FORMAL OPENING

Of the Young Men's Literary and Athletic Club of Prince Albert.

The formal opening of the rooms of this club on Friday evening last was a great success. The lower room in Flett's building was crowded to excess, there being not less than 200 present, while many had to go away. The rooms were tastefully decorated with flags, kindly lent by the Chief Factor of the Hudson Bay Co., O. E. Hughes & Co., and J. O. Davis & Co. An impromptu platform had been erected for the speakers and performers, on which was placed a handsome upright piano. Kindly loaned for the occasion by Mr. T. N. Campbell, who in other ways has been a generous donor to the club.

At the hour appointed for the opening the President of the club, Hon. L. Clarke, took his seat on the platform, supported on his right by Col. Spenser, one of the Vice-Presidents of the club, and on his left by D. H. Macdonald, M.N.W.C. The following opening address was then delivered by Hon. Mr. Clarke:

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—

Before proceeding to perform the duty imposed upon me as the president of the Young Men's Literary and Athletic Club, on behalf of the members, I beg to tender our visitors our deep gratitude for their attendance here this evening. More especially would we say to our lady visitors to accept our earnest and most cordial thanks for their countenance and support on this, the opening night of the club. We feel proud that our young institution has been so honored, and I am sure that every individual member will see to it that our own meetings shall be so ordered that our reputation shall not only well justify to visit our room, but that the big inside sense of refinement shall be shocked or offended at any of our gatherings. To the secretary of the Club belongs the honor of the inception of this organization, and we owe Mr. Fitz Geronne very much for his untiring zeal and devotion in working up the details to the present condition. As this is a very young institution, and in the present room, and after some discussion decided that a society of the nature of the present club would prove of great benefit to our community. At a second meeting progress was reported by the secretary, officers and committees appointed, and at a subsequent meeting by Messrs. Spenser and Macdonald, and two hundred copies ordered to be printed for distribution. The necessary sum required for the fitting up of the rooms was provided for by public subscription. The current expenses, about $50 per month, will have to be met by members' fees or otherwise. The club starts with a membership of fifty, (which means increased in itself), and we may look forward with confidence to a large addition to our numbers. Members' entrance fee is limited to fifty cents and monthly subscription to one dollar. On payment of these sums a member is entitled to all the privileges of the club. The object sought to be obtained by the founders of the club is to provide a place of pleasant and cheerful resort, where our young men could assemble to enjoy the long winter evenings. Amusements are provided in the form of games of cards, backgammon, chess, dominoes, etc. The reading room will be supplied with magazines, illustrated papers, newspapers and periodicals published in Canada and the old country, together with the local newspapers of the North West Territory. Means will be found in the symposium for the exercise of athletic sports, and we hope to see a knowledge club organized in connection with the club. Gambling, profane language, discussion on political or religious subjects will be prohibited, and violation of the rules will be punished by fine or expulsion. The management and execution of the regulations of the club is placed in the hands of a committee of the members. One member of the committee retires weekly, and his successor is appointed by the remaining members. This arrangement will give every individual of the club an opportunity to become one of the governing body, and it is hoped that the sympathies of the whole club will be a unit in aiding and sustaining the existing committee of management to sustain order. In giving this synopsis of the constitution of this club I have necessarily been brief in my remarks, as time is precious and other entertainments of a more intellectual cast await us. All in all, in view of this nature are of a slow growth, and in a new country like ours we must not become despondent if our development is not rapid. It is much to have started such a club, and a good many gentlemen in our midst feel deeply interested in the success, and will use what influence they are going to bear on their friends to induce those who may form the nucleus of a future literary club. Indeed, I look forward with confidence to the time, and that not very distant, when one of our ladies' requests will lead us not far from the present site of a plot of land to build upon ourselves, which building, I feel persuaded could be erected without hesitating (leaving open the purse of any individual person, by adopting the wise measure by which our efforts have possessed themselves of a risk. In conclusion, one word to the younger members of the club. We would say to you, we elders have prepared the ground, we have seen the work, we have seen the great spring into existence, we encourage this order upon your special care and fostering protection. On you now rests the responsibility whether this growing strapping plant in course of time arrive at maturity and become a healthy tree under whose umbrageous shade yourselves and those that come after you may always find the intellectual and recreative rest that we all require whose fate is to battle with the world and toil and sweat for our daily bread. Gentlemen members of the P. A. L. and A. Club, as your President, I now officially declare this club opened for the season, and heartily wish it God speed.

The following literary and musical programme was then taken up:

Instrumental—Violin and piano, very nicely rendered by Messrs. Way and Peterson.

Song—"A Flower from my angel's mouth," very prettily sung by Miss Macdonald.

Reading—By Mr. Fitz Geronne.

"Gray's song on a country churchyard."

Song—By Miss Col. Spenser, "Jack of all trades."

The number was a very acceptable delivery as to all for an unassuming encore, which produced that ever popular old song, "Comin' thro' the rye," also very nicely sung.

The next number was a reading by Mr. J. O. Davis, but was prevented by illness from appearing.

Song—Catalina, sung by Miss Hand, with very good effect, concluded the first part of the programme.

During the recess coffee and cake were handed round to the ladies.

The Secretary called upon D. H. Macdonald, M.N.W.C., for a few remarks. He said that he had had a short notice, and had come entirely unprepared to make any speech. He heartily approved of the objects of the club, and was happy to be present at such a successful opening. He alluded to the necessity for Canadians keeping up a knowledge of the history of their country, and said that he would be happy to contribute to the library of the club, whenever he considered the best history of Canada. He concluded by wishing the club every success.

The second part of the programme was opened by a short but very interesting address from Rev. Mr. McWilliam, Presbyterian minister. He said he approved of all sorts of innocent amusements and games, such as chess, draughts, etc. As regards physical culture, he believed in it thoroughly, although perhaps he might not be a very good specimen of the ideal of the club. He was fully alive to the importance of athletic exercises, and was glad to see that elements introduced into the club. He also entirely approved of social gatherings such as this, and he hoped it would be the forerunner of many more during the long winter they had just entered upon.

Another instrumental piece, violin and piano, rendered by Messrs. Way and Peterson, was a most effective style followed. After which Mr. William Stewart sang, "Only a summer shower," very sweetly indeed, which was promptly accepted, but not responded to. Mr. T.

N. Campbell then gave a very fine rendering of "Mary Queen of Scots," which was followed by a fine song well sung, by Mr. J. L. Johnson, "The Pilgrims' Fare," accompanied by Mrs. Brown. The Rev. Peter Andre was then called upon by the President, and said he had been so fully and warmly welcomed and would be better able to express himself in his own language. He was glad to see all the denominations joining hand in hand to sustain this institution, which he considered was one of the best ever organized in the North West. He had been himself some twenty-five years in this country, and he had travelled over his vast extent far away from the influence of civilization, and one of the things which kept up his spirits was the love of literature, and he was the happiest man when he could enjoy his book. He hoped, therefore, that this club would form the nucleus of a library of useful books, and he was glad that he had the opportunity of being present that evening and encouraging as far as he could the establishment of this institution, which he thought, properly managed, would prove a blessing to the young men of Prince Albert.

The President was here called upon for a song, to which he responded by singing a comic Irish song in capital style, which was received by rounds of applause.

The programme was then resumed, and Mr. Joseph Handford read the celebrated speech of Sergeant Burford from Pick.

He was very well received.

Mrs. Brown then addressed the audience with the song, "I wish I was a boy," in such acceptable style as to demand an encore, to which she kindly responded with "Two is company, three is none," which was also well received.

Mr. J. J. Campbell then gave a very fine recitation of the "Lair," which was quite an effort of memory and was much appreciated.

The programme was well vouched up by a comic song, in character, "Patrick and the lady," by T. O. Davis, given in his best style, which brought down the house, and was well received.

"When Melissa gets a job," which also took the house by storm.

This concluded a very interesting programme.

Rev. Canon Flett moved that a vote of thanks be given to the ladies and gentlemen who had so kindly assisted in the very pleasant entertainment which they had all enjoyed so much. He also moved the thanks of the meeting and the President and officers of the club for their successful inauguration of an deserving institution as the Young Men's Literary and Athletic Club, to which he wished every success.

Mr. S. C. Elliot announced the resolution, which passed unanimously.

Col. Spenser then moved that the President vacate the chair and that Mr. Macdonald take it, which was done. Col. Spenser then congratulated the club on the very successful inauguration of the institution, which was a credit to all who were instrumental in getting it up. He trusted now that the club had been successfully launched that the young men of Prince Albert would make it and sail in successfully, and that they would take advantage of the great opportunities which were now afforded to them for instruction and amusement. He hoped that at the next anniversary of the club they would be able to meet in a larger room and with more of a larger attendance than they were then favored with, large as it was. He could not conclude without saying the name of the secretary, Mr. Geronne, as one of the most active and zealous in originating and sustaining the club upon the present promising basis. Mr. Geronne briefly acknowledged the compliment, and said that he had only just one thing to say to provide a good place of instruction and amusement for the young men of Prince Albert. The success of the meeting and the establishment was accomplished in this far and trouble in may have taken in the matter. He trusted that now that the club had been so successfully started and so liberally patronized, that the young men would take hold of it and show that they appreciated the fact of their being done for them.

The President in closing the entertainment, hoped that it would be the precursor of many more of a similar kind. The National Amateur Athletic Association song, and then closed a most enjoyable and pleasant evening.

A NORTH WEST CONVENTION.

Not long since one of our North West contemporaries, the Moose Jaw News, if we mistake not, made a very good suggestion, that a convention should be held of delegates from each district of the Territories, to hold at some convenient place along the line of the C. P. R. to discuss matters of importance connected with North West affairs, with a view to select from amongst themselves delegates who would proceed to Ottawa during the coming session of the Dominion Parliament, to personally bring before the members of the Government and Parliament some of our most prominent grievances and requirements. The idea is a good one, and we trust that it will be carried out. We have great faith in the efficacy of delegations, provided that the right men are selected. Persistent personal application has more weight, and is more likely to produce beneficial results, than all the memorials and petitions that could be prepared, no matter how ably drawn or advocated—as witness the results of the Edmonton and St. Albert delegations last winter. They not only got all they asked for, but a little more besides. Ministers can put memorials in their pigeon holes and forget all about them, but they cannot get out of delegates quite so easily, and sometimes they grant their requests in order to avoid their pertinacity and often importunities. Last winter we urged upon our people the importance of sending a delegation to Ottawa, to join that from Edmonton, and we believe that if this had been done that some, at all events, of our grievances, notably the delay in issuing patents, would have been removed before this. We have not lost sight of the matter of a settlers' rights association, which was mooted in these columns a short time ago, but there have been so many exciting matters occupying public attention lately that we have not had space or time to attend to it. We were also waiting an answer to an application for a copy of the by-laws and constitution of a similar organization at Qu'Appelle, which has not yet been received. We understand that it is the intention of the committee to be organized to holding meetings amongst the farmers of the outlying districts, calling them to call meetings in their localities, which some of the committee will attend, so as to form branch associations to affiliate with the parent society. This organization would be the proper one to take charge of the matter of sending a delegate to the proposed North West convention, if it is got up, and to provide funds for the expense. The cost of sending a delegate even to Ottawa would be more than made up by the direct as well as the indirect advantages which would result from it. We commend this important subject to the nearest attention of our contemporaries of the North West press, who would recommend prompt action, for if the Dominion Parliament meet as early as anticipated (the first week or middle of January) there will not be much time to spare for the preliminary meeting of the convention.

WANTED—A POLICE MAGISTRATE.

Among the many wants of this place, not the least is a competent police magistrate to deal with petty criminal cases, as to take preliminary examinations in matters of a graver nature, which would come under the jurisdiction of the District Court. We do not wish to convey the impression that crime is so prevalent here as to require additional magisterial aid. On the contrary, this portion of the North West is singularly free from crime, so much so that but for the severity of the climate the Judge might indulge in the constant and perpetual luxury of white-knole whisks on the bench. But in every community, no matter how quiet or orderly it may be, there are always some disorderly characters who have to be kept in order, and therefore it is better to have one magistrate appointed, whose duty it would be to hold his court at regular intervals, or whenever called upon. We therefore trust that the Government will appoint a suitable man as a Police Magistrate for the Saskatchewan District, and in doing so we trust that they will select a man from amongst ourselves, of whom there are several quite competent to fill the office, one who knows the people and their ways, and not send a stranger up here from the eastern provinces, which has been too much the practice in the past. Let the Government give us a Police Magistrate, and next a resident stipendiary.

The Mounted Police.

Quite a sensation was created on Sunday by the arrival of a large force of the Mounted Police, thirteen in number, from Battleford, under the command of Capt. Antolova. Of course there were all sorts of surmises as to the cause of this visit of so large a force. Amongst other rumors it was said that they came down here in connection with recent events, which have to do with telegraph matters, and that they had been sent for on the representation of certain magistrates of the Town, fearing further trouble. Again it was thought that Mr. Treston had made exaggerated reports of the difficulty in which he had been involved in this place on his recent visit, and possibly had made a formal complaint to the officer commanding the Force in this District, and had requested the protection of the Police. And this was a very natural conclusion to arrive at, when taken in connection with a very foolish boast, which that very conspicuous official is reported to have made at Duck Lake on his way to Battleford, that he was going to return with an armed force of twenty or thirty police to protect him in his attempts to set the will of the people of Prince Albert at defiance in regard to the location of the telegraph office. The excitement which has been somewhat allayed, rapidly rose to fever heat again and much indignation was felt that our peaceful and usually orderly community was to be subjected to further indignities at the hands of this youthful and indiscreet Government official. In order to arrive at the truth of the matter, and to satisfy our readers of the real facts of the case, we had an interview with Capt. Antolova, who frankly stated that he was in Prince Albert had no connection with telegraph matters at all. No complaint had been made to him by Mr. Treston or anybody else connected with the telegraph business, nor was any request forwarded by any body in Prince Albert for the presence of the police here. He was simply here on official business, connected with the Force, and had no intention or wish to mix himself up in the difficulty in any way, any further than that it is required any specific instructions from the Government, of course he would have to obey. We were very glad to be in a position to give this information upon the authority of the officer in command of the Mounted Police, and it will remove certain erroneous impressions which existed in the public mind as to the cause of the presence of such a large police force, amounting at this juncture. In regard to the present position of the telegraph difficulty we may state that on Thursday afternoon, by direction of the Police Commissioner, the post-car of Col. Spaul's residence, and as far as John Macdonald was concerned and will be placed in position so as to connect with the land selected and purchased by the committee for the site of the other end of the Baker's property near the Club House. This was done so as to have the police in position when the necessary, so as to be ready to have them strong to the place selected by the people for the office. There was no demonstration made or attempted, it was simply a business transaction and the Committee were acting under legal advice, and were dealing with their own property in accordance with the regulations passed at the meeting called for that purpose. No interference was attempted by anybody, and we sincerely trust that this is the end of this very unpleasant difficulty. We have no doubt that when the Minister of Public Works is in possession of the whole facts of the case, that he will remove Mr. Treston, at all events from this portion of the North West, and will order the telegraph office to be located where the majority of the people of Prince Albert have decided that it ought to be placed.

NOTICE.

To Lumbermen and Others

Who are desirous of obtaining Permits to cut New Logs, House Logs, Rail, Fence Posts, Cordwood, or any kind of Timber in the District of Prince Albert, North West Territories:

Permits will be granted to parties who strictly comply with the rules and regulations of the Dominion Act, which forbids any trespassing on Crown Timber Lands.

Timber cut in any form without a permit is subject to seizure, and can be confiscated for the benefit of the Crown, by order of the Minister of the Interior—Page 24 and 25, clause 60, 61 and 64 of the Dominion Land Act.

Those complying with the law, as laid down in said Act, will be well treated and honorably dealt with.

The public is requested to assist in preventing the wasteful and reckless method of tree cutting as at present practised, if not peremptory means will have to be taken by Legislative interference to arrest the progress of the evil, as all the timber will be required to supply the local wants of the people who are only now beginning to settle on the fertile prairie.

Parties claiming wood already cut on north side of the Saskatchewan River without having taken out permits, must call and settle dues at my office on or before the 15th day of November, 1883, otherwise such lots will be subject to seizure and double dues charged.

Any information with regard to the issuing of permits, or dues chargeable on the various kinds of timber cut in accordance with the Act, will be cheerfully given by calling on me at Messrs McLean & Elliot's law office.

INCORPORATION.

A meeting was held on Wednesday evening at the Gable House to consider the question of incorporation, which was largely attended. The motion Mr. John Stewart took the chair and Mr. Fitz Cochrane was appointed secretary. The chairman briefly explained the objects of the meeting and said he trusted that if they were going to have incorporation, that they would have unanimity and that they would all work together for the common good.

Mr. John F. Betts said that he had not had an opportunity of studying the Ordinance which was passed by the North West Council, relating to incorporation, but he had read the abstract which was published in the paper. He suggested that a committee be appointed to arrange the details required by the Act.

The Chairman then read from THE TIMES the clauses relating to the incorporation of towns.

Mr. Betts suggested that the meeting confine its attention to the town of incorporation.

Mr. Wm. Stewart enquired if the Goshen people had considered the Ordinance and whether they were satisfied with it.

Mr. Deacon said that the subject had been discussed at a meeting held in Goshen and they had unanimously decided in favor of town incorporation. He was himself strongly in favor of it, provided that everything was done in a square and manly spirit. Mr. Macdow all was appointed at that meeting as delegate to attend this meeting, but he had been suddenly called away to Winnipeg and had not left the incorporation Ordinance with any one as far as he knew. He for one was quite willing to have all his property included in the limits of the incorporation.

Mr. McPhail also expressed his willingness to have Goshen included in the limits, and thought that Moore & Macdow's property should be also included in the town.

Mr. George Miller expressed himself to the same effect.

Mr. James Treason thought the town should be four miles long and half a mile wide.

Mr. Deacon suggested that there would not be any necessity to have it so wide at the eastern and western extremities as in the centre.

The meeting then proceeded with the appointment of a committee to arrange details.

Mr. Barker suggested that the committee be nominated singly, paired.

The following gentlemen were the duly proposed and seconded several named: Messrs. Thomas McKay, Wm. Stewart, John F. Betts, J. E. Miller, J. D. Mavery, J. R. M. Hall, R. Deacon and C. E. Hughes.

Mr. Betts moved that this Committee be empowered to arrange the details required by the Ordinance, to prepare necessary papers and plans, define the limits of the town, and area, and to report at a meeting of citizens to be called for that purpose, seconded by Mr. Barker and passed.

It was subsequently arranged to call this meeting in two weeks or sooner if the Committee can arrange it.

Mr. Cochrane thought that the proceedings had been a little irregular, but he had no formal resolution had yet been passed approving of incorporation at all. He therefore, to get an expression of opinion on the subject, moved that it be the opinion of this meeting that the inhabitants of Prince Albert be incorporated into a town, under the provisions of the Ordinance of the North West Council, passed for that purpose, which was seconded by Mr. R. Gwynne and passed unanimously.

A vote of thanks was then passed to the Chairman and Secretary and the meeting adjourned.

Now that the ball has been started we hope no time will be lost. The Ordinance provides that the annual elections shall take place early in January, except in case of a provisional committee, for which there will be no necessity in our case. A petition has to be presented to the Lieutenant-Governor, which must be accompanied by a diagram showing the locality and area of the proposed town, number of inhabitants, etc. Notice of the application has to be published for four weeks in the local papers so that there is little enough time to take advantage of the January elections. It is to be regretted that there are no copies of the Ordinance to be had, as there are many details which we did not discuss, but which the people brought to a point.

BRITISH ASSOCIATION SURPRISE.

At the recent meeting of the British Association a paper was read by Mr. T. L. Poulsen on heredity in cases with abnormal number of toes. The position of the feet in the third generation and in succeeding generations. All varieties between the normal four and the extreme seven toes had been observed. The females most frequently possessed the abnormal number of toes. They were very clever at catching mice and readily learnt to shake hands. The President said the importance of such observations lay in their bearing on heredity. He said he had been advanced to show that non was descended from a six-fingered animal. Miss Backland said she had seen in Bath a cat with seven toes on each foot. Professor Marshall remarked on the importance of such observations in relation to investigations as to the origin of species.

PROSPECTUS OF THE Prince Albert Directory AND BUSINESS GUIDE.

It is proposed to issue a Business Directory for the town of Prince Albert and District of Lorne in a pamphlet form which will contain the advertisements of each business establishment, and in actual rate (multiple rate) and a directory of names of each.

The preface will contain a history of Prince Albert, its present condition and future prospects, together with a statement of this year's crops, as far as they can be ascertained for the District of Lorne, extent of acreage cultivated number of bushels per acre, increase over last year's crop, population of District, and other useful information, written by a well-known journalist.

About 500 or more copies will be published (according to the encouragement received) which will be distributed throughout the Dominion and the Mother Country.

It is hoped that by this means, benefit will result, not only to each individual advertiser and subscriber, but that the whole country will become better known and appreciated both at home and abroad, and a healthy emulation encouraged to this country.

Price of advertisement, whole page, notice on opposite page, $10; two copies given free. Single copies, 50c.

THE LARGEST PAPER IN CANADA!

THREE MONTHS FREE.

Three Handsome Cash Prizes

$500-$200-$100.

THE MANITOBA WEEKLY FREE PRESS is just entering upon its Twelfth Year of publication. Since its first issue it has been an acknowledged leader and defender of the Northwest interests. What it has done for the welfare of the country, that the Press has done, whether in the Northwest or elsewhere, that the Press has done.

In this respect the Press has done the same as the past. It has been a constant and faithful friend to the people of the Northwest, and its influence has been felt in every part of the Northwest.

The Editorial articles of the Press have been a constant and faithful friend to the people of the Northwest, and its influence has been felt in every part of the Northwest.

Every issue contains all the latest news of the Northwest, and its influence has been felt in every part of the Northwest.
